"THE FETERHOFF CASE"—FINALE OF AN IMPORTANT PRIZE CASE.

In the "Peterhoff case," perhaps the longest stigated, best known, and one of the most important prize cases arising during the war, Mr. Ethan Allon, Depnity United States District Attorney, has prepared and filed with the Clerk of the District Court of this District, the final decree of distribution of the proceeds of the property eventually condemned. This vessel was one of the first of the important prizes taken during the war. She was bound, at the time of her capture, for Matamorea, and it was contended by her claimants that she was exempt from forfeiture, because going to a neutral port. The Government contended for ner condemnation, because of the munitions of war on board, the contraband character of other portions of her cargo, and the suspicious circumstance of the captain throwing overboard her papers as soon as she was seized. The vessel and her did service under the American fiag during a part of the war. The case was appealed to the Supreme Court, and in July, 1867, the mandate of the supreme Court was received by the District Attorney and filed, which ordered the restitution of the cargo which was contraband of war, which was condemned, and the claimants were to pay all the costs of litigation. Judge Blatchford referred the whole case to United States Commissioner John A. Osborn, to take testimony and report as to the sum to be returned and the value of the Supreme Court. The testimony taken by the Commissioner was voluminous, and about the 1st of March. 1888, the report was made and filed, by which it was found that about $19,000 was the value of the property condemned, in accordance with the decree of the Supreme Court. The testimony taken by the Commissioner was voluminous, and about the 1st of March. 1888, the report was made and filed, by which it was found that about $19,000 was the value of the property condemned, and about the to the erges amount due to the erges amount due to the tenglish owners. Subsequent to this a decree was ent "THE PETERHOFF CASE"-FINALE OF AN IM-PORTANT PRIZE CASE.

THE FULTON-ST. HOMICIDE. In the Supreme Court Circuit yesterday Judge process charged the jury. He said that the plaintiffs, as a personal representatives of James L. Frazer, deased, sued by virtue of certain statutes of the State of the personal representatives of James L. Frazer, decased, sued by virtue of certain statutes of the State of New-York, to recover for the benefit of the widow and next of kin of the decased the damages which they claimed to have resulted from his death, which was ascerted to have been a wrongful act occasioned by the defendant, Freeman. The jury must guard themselves against the effect of mere sympathy. They must not find a verdict against the defendant because the widow and children of Col. Frazer had suffered, but only, if at all, because they had concluded that the defendant is brought within the rules of legal liability which he should give to them. If they determined that those rules, when applied to the evidence, demanded a verdict against the defendant, they must render it, whatever its consequences were. The Court recited the circumstances out of which the action had arisen.

The jury then retired, and after a deliberation of fifteen minutes found a verdict for the plaintiffs, with 45,000 damages, the full amount authorized by the statute.

In the City Court, Brooklyn, before Judge Thompson, the case of Wm. J. Kennon agt. Anthony Barrett and Eliza Otton was tried. The litigation is the result of a family quarrel, the defendants being brother and sister, and the plaintiff their brother-in-law, and the testimony was of a most contradictory character. The jury had not returned with a verdict. In the case of Dietz agt. Jones, in the Superior

In the case of Dietz agt, Jones, in the Superior Court yesterday, it appeared that the defendant was enloying himself on New Year's. He went to the plaintiffs room after inidight, put his arm in, and fired his pistol, the charge taking effect in plaint Ts eye. The testimony was very contradictory. The Court charged that if the accident occurred through the negligence of the defendant they should give him a reasonable compensation. If it was willful they should give exemplary damages. Verdict for plaintiff for $5,000.

Verdict for plaintiff for $5,000.

In the Superior Court, yesterday, the case of J. L. Weiler, by his guardian, agt. John H. Lound was taken up. It appears that in June, 1867, the cap of the plaintiff was thrown into the defendant's yard, corner of Thirteenth-st, and Seventh-ave., and he followed it. The defendant, says he picked some of his flowers, and he chased the boy and he or his servant whipped him, how much is a question. The boy says two dozen lashes, the Doctor says one and a great deal of flourish. The defense admits an assault, but asks a light verdict, as the trespass justified some punishment. The case is still on.

John Anderson, a negro, not of full age, who scaped from Slavery in the early part of the war, brought mit in the Common Pleas against Gustav Huebner, a stizen of this State, for the value of his services for two citizen of this State, for the value of his services for two years. It seemed that in 1863 he entered the service of the defendant who offered him temporarily $5 a month and board. Defendant claims that he was not worth his board and clothing. The jury gave him $105 and interest — in all $119 90 ... Henry McChester brought suit against this City for damages sustained by him from falling into a hole in the sidewalk in Second-ave, near Forty-first-st, by which his leg was broken. He estimated his damages at $0,000. The testimony showed that the hole was in the sidewalk, and appeared to have been caused by a heavy weight falling upon it. The jury gave him $350.

In the Supreme Court, Special Term, before Gilbert, yesterday, the motion for a writ of que note, made on behalf of Henry Carr to compel Fran-Kirby to show by what authority he holds the office scrintendent of the Poor for the Second District. of Superintendent of the Poor for the Second District, was argued. The question turns on the point whether Kirby, who was elected Superintendent of the Poor in November, 1865, at a general election, was elected to fill the unexpired term of Morris Roberts, who was elected in 1863, but who died in July, 1865, and whose term would not have expired until January, 1867. In November, 1866, Carr, believing that Kirby was elected for the unexpired term of Morris, rab for the office and was elected. He claimed his office on Jan. 1, 1867, but Kirby refused to resign.

In the U. S. District Court in Bankruptcy, before Judge Benedict, C. W. Browne, C. W. Moon, Joseph N. Ely and, Wm. M. Robbins, of the firm of C. W. & J. T. Browne & Co., which did business at the corner of Leonard-st. and Broadway. New-York, and collapsed in 1861, with $1,400,000 inabilities, were discharged, this being the first occasion since their affairs came into court that the motion for their discharge was not opposed by some one. ... In the case of the petitioner, Henry Dreyfous, who has been adjudged a bankrupt, pending his final discharge a creditor brought a suit against him in a State court for the recovery of a debt. The bankrupt then applied to the District Court for a stay of proceedings until his discharge. One of the creditors now moves to vacate the injunction in his case, and asserts that an order for his arrest has been taken out. The Judge said it would be better to have the street passed on by the Supreme Court, and that he would then hear the motion to stay the proceedings.

In the United States District Court, in Admiralty, a decision was given in the cellision suit of Nesbitt & Irwin agt, the schooner Village Gem. The libelats were the owners of the sloop Diamond, which was run into by the schooner on the Hudson River, near Pieragont, on the night of the 30th of October, 1862, and alpost immediately sunk, becoming a total loss, Libelante seek to recover her value, on the ground that the collision was the result of the negligence of the schooner. The Court, on the testimony, orders a decree for libelants, and orders a reference to ascertain and report the amount of damage. ... In the same Court a question of maratime lien was decided in the case of Taffagt, the brig Antelope. In September, 1855, the libelant furnished spars, &c., to be used in the building of the brig, at Newburgh, N. Y., and now brings sait to recover their value, on the ground that he has a maritime lien on the vessel for such value. The defense is that the spars, &c., were furnished to one Marvell, the builder of the vessel, and not to the vessel, and that even if such delivery bound the vessel, the lien was lost by the vessel having departed from Newburgh without the libelant having filed any specifications against her. The Court holds the case made out as to the loss of any lien the libelant ever had, and says he never had any lien that by the general maritime law could be enforced in admirally. The libel is therefore dismissed. In the United States District Court, in Ad-

CRIMINAL. In the Court of General Sessions, yesterday before Judge Russel, a number of sentences to the Peni tentiary and State Prison were pronounced.

In Justice White's Court, Hoboken, yesterday, Christopher Smith of New-York procured a warrant for the arrest of one Anthony Peters, who, he alleges, met him on Sunday last, on the Common at Weehawken, and placing a pistol at his head threatened to take his life, and robbed him of a cage containing a cansay bird. It is said that for some time past several persons from New-York, who spent the Sunday in catching birds at Weehawken, were compelled by Peters to deliver up to him his choice of the feathered captives.

Indge Blatchford charged the Grand Jury in the United States Girchit Count yesterday, calling their attention to the asual matters. The jury will be called to pass upon one marder case, vacious counterfeiting cases, and numerous cases of violation of the Internal Revenue laws by distillers and others. Among the latter is the famous Blaisdell & Eckel distillery case. The persons indicted by the Grand Jury, will be tried at the June term of the District Court, along with several other persons whose cases went over the April term.

In Justice Cornwell's Court, Brooklyn, George
B. Gardner of No. 16 Atlantic-st. was accused by John Wallace of perjury. Wallace occupied a house owned by Gardner and was dispossessed by the latter for mon-payment of rent, and Wallace now alleges that when Gardner swore he had demanded of him the rent he swore falsely. The case is to be examined on Wednesday next.

John Cordon, nine years of age, was sent to jail for to days for having thrown stones at the window of the Methodist Church in Eighteenth-st. About 25 persons were accused to obstructing the sidewalks, the obstruclions being caused in various ways. The complaints were preferred by Street Commissioner Furey. Sorie of the accused were disclinaged with a reprimand; others were fined. Michael McCue, an expression, residing in Dean-st, near Flatioush-sec, on a charge of stealing his own wagon, against which an execution had been obtained for the payment of still due to J. F. Baylis for horse foed, gave half to await the action of the Grand Jury.

In the Essex Market Police Count yesterday, before Justice Mansield, George W. Rossevelt was examined for having obtained slife by means of false and fraudmient representations from John Latech, of No. 2 Levisst. Mr. Roose celt was the agent of Mrs. Brown of Jersey

A boy, John A. Tootman by name, only six years of age, who, while playing in the street, picked up a coat that was lying on the ground, was accused by one Wm. A. Brush of stealing the coat. The child's parents are very respectable, and the boy himself scarcely knows the meaning of the word "thief." The Justice, of course, at once dismissed the complaint, and the little fellow was carried from Court in his father's arms. Brush got some deservedly hard knocks in Court for the evilness of his mind. "Kit Burns" and Charles Barry were arraigned for cruelty to animals, in that they had set dogs to fight in a dog pit at No. 273 Water-st., alins "Sportsman's Hall." As there was no evidence to show, though the dogs were fighting, that the accused alias "Sportsman's Hall." As there was no evidence to show, though the dogs were fighting, that the accused were the instigators of the fight, the prisoners were discharged. John Clement, for having assaulted John Smith, was fined $20. The affair arcse out of a difficulty which occurred on Moving Day, Clement moving from the house into which Smith was moving. The furniture of the one coung hurriedly down stairs while the furniture of the other was in an equal plight to get up the stairs, the owners of the two sets of furniture proceeded from words to blows.

In the Jefferson Market Police Court, yesterday, before Justice Dodge, Ann Conway was committed for having, as alleged, stolen a silver tablespoon valued at $5 from Mrs. Ellen Asconp of No. 117 East Twenty-sixth-st. ...Wm. Donnell was held for trial on a charge of stealing $5 from Ellen Connolly of No. 230 West Sixteenth-st. At the Tombs Police Court yesterday. Justice Ledwith committed Samuel Ransch, a youth, who claims to be an officer of one of the civil courts, for having on the night of the 1st inst. stolen from the bed of Morris Cohen, at No. 212 Bowery, while the owner lay sleeping, a wallet containing $90... Albert Dumoulin, with half a dozen aliasses, and George R. Salisbury, both of whom were arrested for having procured from the People's Bank, in Canal-st. $1.875 56 on a forged check purporting to have been drawn by Geo. H. Salisbury, a butcher at the corner of Greenwich and Watte-sts., and the father of one of the prisoners, were committed to the Tombs to nawait a frial. Charles Getman an alleged accomplice of the prisoner's, was sent to the House of Detention as a witness. Ann Sharkey and Mary Crowley, denizens of No. 21 Buxter-st., have quarreled at times for several months past, and yesterday their difficulties terminated in a fight, during which Mary cut her opponent on the side of the neck and car, nearly severing the latter. Theirate woman was arrested, and Justice Ledwith committed her.—Feter Fitzgerald, while intoxicated, yesterday, threw a paving-stone through one of the piate-plass windows of A. T. Stewart's store at the corner of Broadway and Chambers-st. The phate was valued at $300, and it will be necessary to send to France to replace it. Government stocks were in good demand at full prices. State stocks were active, and Missouri 6s higher, selling at 901. Few Railway mortgages are offered. Western Union Telegraph sold at 38 under a renewal of the report of a dividend in July. Quicksilver was active, selling at 3%. Railway shares were stronger, and there is little disposition shown by holders to part with them at current rates. The prevailing idea is that a large advance in prices will be shown at an early day under the combined effect wife and Duorat had hired a man to drown him. The condition of the case is not yet.

The proofs were found in the defendant's case, on the 28th ult., and defendant acknowledged to Mr. Mahon, another clerk in the store, that he had stolen them. The complainants in the case having firmly held, and offered in small amounts only. Fort Wayne sold at 1061. Michigan Southern was sluggish under a report that the scrip dividend would be enjoined by some small holders of the guaranteed stock, who had not accepted the Company's offer for arrears of dividend. The whole amount unsettled is a trifle, though sufficient to found an injunction upon by "a serviceable judge." The Company has now $500,000 of cash on hand, and there is no good reason why a cash dividend should not be made at once. At the Second Board the market was lower, and after the call Erie sold at 691. The Western list sympathized in the decline, but were [sparingly offered. Government bonds close strong and active for '62s and '65s for German account. Small bonds are in request, and but few on the market.

Surveys have been made for the work on the Hudson River for its third track. The heavy rock cuttings at Fort Washington and other points are to be widened without any impediment to the daily running of trains. The traffic is increasing in all departments, and the immense freight depot at St. John's Park will hardly equal the demands upon it. With a steam line for passengers from the Battery to Spuyten Duyvel, the traffic upon this route from Poughkeepsie to New-York, would be second to no road in the Union. It would be a city line for the entire distance, with hourly trains. To this complexion it is rapidly tending.

The Philadelphia Ledger says:

An arrangement of much importance to the coal, iron, and lumber interests of this State has been consummated between the several canal lines on the Susquehanna River and its branches, embracing the Wyoming Canal, the West Branch and Susquehanna, the Pennsylvania, and the Susquehanna and Tidewater Canals. These several companies together owning the whole system of canals draining the great interior of the State, and connecting it with tidewater, have entered into a contract which takes effect immediately. By this contract they respectively bind themseives to operate their canals as one line on all through tunnage, to pro-rate all through tolls, and to enlarge all of their canals by the Spring of 1871 to six feet depth of water. It is estimated by the parties interested that the above arrangement will effect a reduction of one-half on the vast funnage of anthracite and bitumineus coal, lumber, and iron which annually seeks tidewater by these lines, and will at once create an outlet for the bituminous coal of Pennsylvanis, which will enable it to command the New-York and Eastern markets, thereby vastly extending the business and tunnage of the Susquehanna Vailey.

mated that the war and its effects have destroyed 1,000,000 of slaves, and one-sixth (or 500,600) of the productive force of these Southern States. This has necessarily given rise to such a change in the relations of labor and capital, as regards the culture of cotton, as to induce correspondent change in the elements of cost, and the money value of the product. The former standards of cost and price are no longer applicable. When labor could be procured costing not more than $30 annually, and the interest of money was at no higher rate than 7 per cent per annum, the price of Cotton at Liverpool being $4.0 or $64$, per pound, there was a relative proportion between the costs of production and the price of the raw material. That proportion being changed, involves, as we said, a corresponding alteration of prices. Hence we perceive, that Cotton has advanced in England 100 per cent above its ordinary value, with a proportionate advance of yarn and textile fabrics.

The first object of inquiry should be the probable supply for the present year. The American portion of the supply may be estimated as follows:

4. That the result of the augmented costs of production is to change the standard of prices, and that, in consequence of the increased expense of producing Cotton, so that with double the money value of labor and the higher interest of money, the value of the products of that labor must be correspondingly enhanced.

5. That the final result of these changes in the relations of capital and labor to the products of that labor, whether rude or manufactured, is to give at least a lomporary ascendency to high prices.

The utilimate conclusion is that the South has for the present resumed the position she occupied when Cotton was declared king.

BANKING AND FINANCIAL

THE UNION PACIFIC RAILROAS WMPANY offer a limited amount of their First Mortgage Six Per Cent Bonds, principal and interest payable in gold at par. These bonds are a First Mortgage upon what will be the longest, and certainly one of the most profitable, railroad lines in the country if not in the world. The Union Pacific Railroad receives a Government subsidy in United States Bonds equal to more than one-third its cost, beside an absolute donation in valuable lands amounting to 12,800 acres to the mile. The Government takes a second hen as security for its advances in bonds, on which the interest is more than paid by services in transporting freight, troops, and mails, and leaves a prior claim on the whole property to the first mortgage bondholders. As the net earnings from the local business of the road are already several times the interest on the bonds, there can be no doubt that they are a thoroughly safe security, while at the present rate of gold they pay an annual profit of nearly nine per cent to the investor. Pamphlets containing a full statement of the Company's busi-&c., may be obtained, on application by mail er in person, at the offices, No. 20 Nassau-st., or of John J.
